Global Youth Service Day The Largest Volunteer Service Day in the World!

Thanks to some amazing volunteers, some great community partners, and generous donors, Project REcycle collected over 100 new and used bikes, refurbished them, and donated them to needy kids in Camden. In addition, we distributed new bike helmets, taught bike safety classes, served lunch and brought a LOT of smiles to faces of grateful kids.

Project REcycle (the Volunteer Center's flagship project for Global Youth Service Day) was conceived as a way to engage Camden youth in a healthy activity, by introducing them to the joys of cycling. There is an urgent need for positive, recreational programs for the city's youth. And this is what we delivered. We plan on continuing Project REcycle, and we hope we can count on your help again in the future.

Please show your support for the Project REcycle sponsors: Subaru of America, Rutgers University - Camden, State Farm Insurance, Danzeisen & Quigley, 21st Century Storage, Kent International Bicycles, Quality Bike Products, Easton Bell Sports, Nutcase Helmets, Silver Diner of Cherry Hill, Ravitz Family ShopRite Food Markets, Budget Truck Rental, Mark It Alternatives, Voorhees Rotary, Wegman's of Cherry Hill, Elite Express Trucking, Pepsi-Cola & National Brand Beverages, LTD., Edgewater Apartment Homes, and BJ's Wholesale Club. Without our sponsors, and without our volunteers, Project REcycle would not have been possible.

Project REcycle Volunteer Positions Available

Volunteers will inspect, repair, clean and inventory donated bikes. Project REcycle rescues used bikes, refurbishes them, and provides them, with helmets, to Camden County youth in need. ## Volunteer Center of Camden County's HandiCapable Program

Engaging Volunteers with Disabilities = Accessing Abilities

The Volunteer Center's newest program, HandiCapable, will launch with an in-service at Rutgers University - Camden Campus. The in-service, aimed at the non-profit sector, will feature a discussion panel comprised of individuals with various disabilities who are actively volunteering in the community. The panelists will share their stories about why and how having access to volunteer opportunities enriched their lives and helped the community.

HandiCapable's sole intent is to create a method of better engagement for volunteers of ALL abilities. As many as 70 percent of all Americans with disabilities who can and wish to work are unemployed. If these individuals can work, they can volunteer, if they choose.

For various reasons, some volunteer programs tend to reject potential volunteers with disabilities. Finding the door to volunteer service locked means people with disabilities have less access to serving their communities, and less access to the rewards of volunteering their time, talent and effort, to others. The ability to give (rather than receive) offers the sense of doing something for someone else rather than being on the receiving end of charity.

Organizations lose the enthusiasm, hard work and problem solving skills of volunteers with disabilities. They miss the gifts each of these volunteers could have given them, their clients and their communities. Society also misses a chance to be fully integrated.

For disabled individuals, volunteering has many benefits, such as boosting self-esteem, confidence, and creating a feeling of being a worthwhile member of the community. Often, the volunteer with disabilities teaches other workers and volunteers how to deal with disabled clients and customers more effectively.

It is imperative to view individuals with disabilities as valuable, skilled resources rather than people who are only on the receiving end of community service. By recruiting volunteers with disabilities, organizations will benefit from the volunteer's unique insights and understanding. Individuals with disabilities have been overcoming obstacles their entire lives....what better volunteer is there?

For more information on HandiCapable, please call (856) 663-9356 or email sburch@uoss.org.

Community Involved VETERANS

The Volunteer Center of Camden County is very pleased to announce the launch of it's newest program...Community Involved Veterans in Camden County (CIVIC). CIVIC's overall mission is to bring veterans "back into the fold" by successfully integrating them back into civilian life through volunteer service. It will be an opportunity for our Veterans to share their skills and service with the community, themselves and other veterans. CIVIC will also be a way for our Veterans to develop and enhance new and existing skill sets so they can translate their military skills into civilian job skills.

CIVIC's goals will be to reconnect Veterans with other Veterans, foster growth of existing Veteran organizations, and provide networking opportunities for Veterans

The services offered by CIVIC to our Veterans will potentially include a Veteran Volunteer Day of Service, Resume Building Workshops, a Volunteer Referral Service, and possible job references from local non-profits where the Veterans are volunteering.

CIVIC volunteer opportunities may include (but are not limited to) re-searching Vietnam Dog Tags for return to family members, younger Veterans assisting older Veterans, tutoring and mentoring Camden County youth, housing rehabilitation, and delivery of meals to shut-ins for the Thanksgiving FEASTival.

For more information on CIVIC, or to become involved in this exciting program, please call (856) 663-9356 or email sburch@uoss.org.

Agency Spotlights

NJ Aid for Animals (NJafa) is an all volunteer 501(c)(3) non-profit whose mission is to ensure the safety and well-being of domestic animals through unique, cutting-edge programs and a focus on serving impoverished communities. 100% of donations go directly to programs for the animals. Our unique ability for capacity building - bringing together non-profits, local government agencies and community resources - enables NJafa to maximize our donations and ensures that funding is allocated to the services which are desperately needed.

NJafa advocates, educates and provides spay and neuter services for dogs and cats in Camden, NJ whose owners cannot afford the cost and/or transportation in an effort to reduce pet over-population. Our Pet Enrichment Program (PEP) Clinics include shots, flea treatments, grooming, doghouses, medical assistance, food assistance, collars and education where we bring services to the people who cannot otherwise get to them because of transportation. NJafa also pursues justice and rescues abused animals. We have successfully brought to justice animal abusers involved in dog fighting and neglect.

New Initiatives: Project Knockout: Celebrity spokesperson Bernard Hopkins is lending his name to billboards to encourage neutering pit bulls. Camden Animal Wellness Clinic: NJafa is in the process of opening a "wellness" clinic - the first of its kind, for preventive pet care in Camden, and Sanctuary for Pit Bulls: We ensure that abused animals receive the care they need and have partnered with a pit bull sanctuary in Texas.

YOU can help! Make a donation to help our programs continue; sponsor a billboard; sponsor a pit, or volunteer (administrative/events planner/graphic/skilled laborers). For more information contact Kathy McGuire, NJafa Founder/President at (856) 498-3978, email info@njafa.org or visit www.njafa.org.

Take Control. We Can Help.™

Kids get arthritis, too! It is a surprising fact to many people that children are affected by arthritis. Juvenile arthritis (JA) is an umbrella term used to describe the many autoimmune and inflammatory conditions that can develop in children ages 16 and younger.

Arthritis typically affects joints. The word "arthritis" literally means joint inflammation: arth (joint) and itis (inflammation) – but JA can involve the eyes, skin and gastrointestinal tract as well.

There are several types of juvenile arthritis. Over time, a child with JA may exhibit a variety of symptoms including muscle and soft tissue tightening, bone erosion, joint misalignment, and changes in growth patterns.

The first six months after the onset of JA are extremely important. A child's doctor, likely a pediatric rheumatologist, will monitor the number of joints affected during those first six months, as well as administer the rheumatoid factor blood test, which checks for a substance in the blood that's usually found in people with this condition.

There is much that can be done for kids affected by JA. Medications can be targeted to help slow or stop disease progression. Exercise can keep muscles strong and joints flexible. Education about diet and mental well-being can help to manage the disease as well.

The Arthritis Foundation offers many resources to educate families about JA. They include JA summer camps, family educational days, parent networking sessions, and educational materials. Community events like the Arthritis Walk and Jingle Bell Run/Walk raise crucial awareness and support for JA and all the forms of arthritis, and are great ways to bring families together. The 2011 Jingle Bell Run/Walk is taking place on Saturday, December 10, 2011 at Cooper River Park in Pennsauken, NJ. Please consider forming a team of friends, family, and co-workers!

For more information about Juvenile Arthritis or the Jingle Bell Run/Walk for Arthritis, please contact the Arthritis Foundation at 215.574.3060 or visit www.arthritis.org.
